appeal to the portuguese government

the angola comite protests at the discussions the portuguese government held last week in bangkok with the ''provisional government of east timor'', which was established by indonesia,. the angola comite thinks this amounts to an indirect recognition of indonesia's annexation of east timor.
we regret very much that portugal is willing this way to assist indonesia in its aggression against the people of east timor.
we call upon portugal to reconsider its present attitude and to refuse any co-operation with indonesia's expansionist policies.
